

Christian Felber

Profile

Christian Felber, 45, is an Austrian academic who has written and co-authored more than 15 books, teaches at several universities and is an international speaker and contemporary dancer.

Christian is well known across continental Europe as the founder of the Economy for the Common Good (ECG).

This fast-growing movement, supported by more than 2,000 businesses and local governments, advocates a more ethical economic model, in which the wellbeing of people and the environment become the ultimate goal of business.

ECG offers a solution that builds an economy to increase wellbeing for all, not just the few, and puts ethical management and corporate responsibility at the heart of business.

Christian is an active voice in the responsible business debate on an international stage.

He has recently launched his latest book, 'Money, The New Rules of the Game,' in the English language, enabling this alternative viewpoint to now be more widely understood in the UK too.

His previous text, 'Change Everything' is also available in English.
